Before you go ahead:

If you think it's better to hide a song than delete it, you can do so using the steps mentioned below.

- The song you hide won't appear in your music library on all your devices running on the same Apple ID, except it is already downloaded on a device.
- If you're a part of a Family Sharing group, other members won't see tracks that you hide, unless they've already downloaded them before you hide it.
- Hiding your music doesn't mean you're hiding the record of the purchase. The hidden tracks can still be accessed from your purchased history.
