

I love how Netflix profiles allow multiple people to use the same account yet have a personalized experience. You can also change your Netflix profile picture for that additional customization!

Yes, you can choose from fun images representing popular Netflix shows such as Bridgerton, Money Heist, etc., or even add a custom photo from your computer using a Google Chrome extension.

It's great because I, for one, think that the default profile icons look quite dull and boring. Let me show you how to change your Netflix profile picture on your iPhone, iPad, or desktop.

How to set custom Netflix profile picture using Chrome extension

Netflix, by default, only lets you change your picture to one that represents its shows. But if you want to add your photo or some other image, you can do it using a Google Chrome extension on your desktop. Here's how:

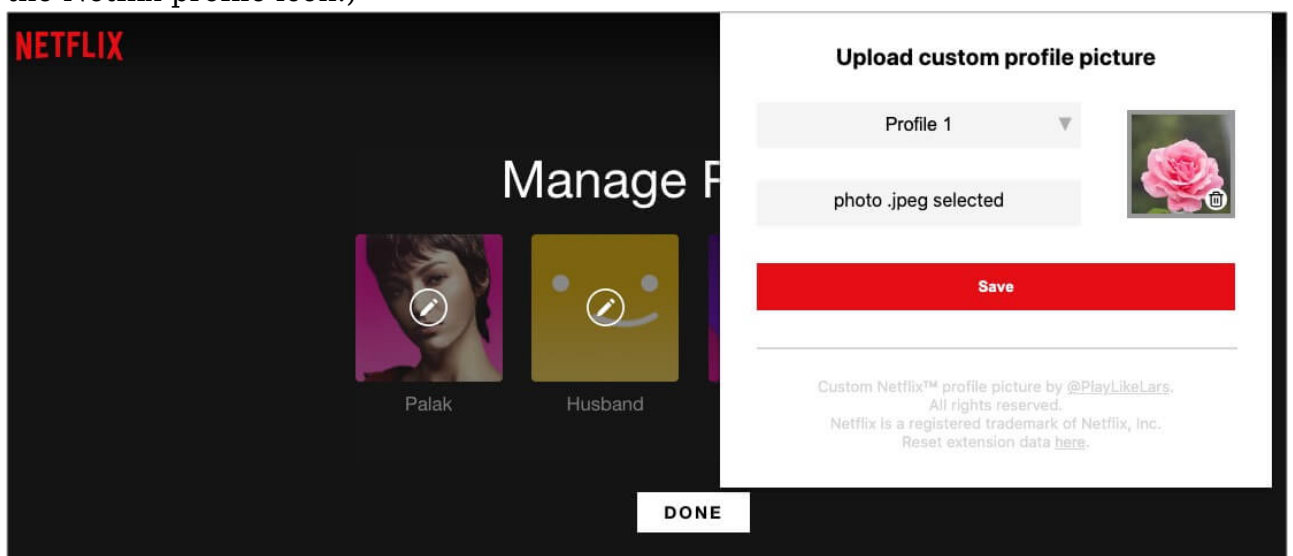

1. Download the Google Chrome extension Custom Profile Picture for Netflix.

2. Go to www.Netflix.com on Google Chrome. Click your profile icon at the top right. Select Manage Profiles.
3. Open the extension Custom Profile Picture for Netflix.

4. You will see the option to change your profile picture. Select a photo from your computer (it has to be a .jpeg file that's under 5MB and will fit into the square shape of the Netflix profile icon.)

5. Click Save.

Note: I didn't find this method very effective. It only changes your picture on the computer you're using and not across your devices. So, it's just a temporary thing that you can try for fun.

I've explained all the different ways to change your Netflix profile picture. Have you tried it yet? Let me know what picture you picked or have any other questions about this streaming platform in the comments below.
